Rainwater Harvesting

Hands-on Workshop

Friday, May 25, 2018

4 pm - 7 pm

Rae Gilmore Recreation Center

8501 Diana Dr.

El Paso, Texas 79904

CITIES OF SERVICE

Green infrastructure is an approach to water management that protects, restores, or mimics the natural water cycle.

Interested in green infrastructure (specifically rainwater harvesting)?

Want to win a free rain barrel?

Join us on May 25th to learn about active and passive rainwater harvesting!

Volunteers who attend will help with digging, planting, painting, and assembling for our Rae Gilmore Recreation Center Rainwater Harvesting Demonstration Project.

Each volunteer will learn how to make their own rain barrel and a couple lucky volunteers will bring one home! Volunteers will also receive Green Infrastructure guides to take home!

This project is made possible by funding from Cities of Service.
