

WATERSMART LANDSCAPING VIRTUAL WORKSHOPS

Speakers:

Rachel Gioannini
Assistant Professor of Plant and Environmental Sciences
New Mexico State University

Anai Padilla
Water Conservation
Manager
*El Paso Water
Tech₂O Learning Center*

John White
Certified Arborist,
Professor Horticulturist,
Retired Curator with the Chihuahuan Desert
Botanical Garden at the University of Texas at El Paso

INTRODUCTORY LANDSCAPE WORKSHOP: UNDERSTANDING WATER IN OUR DESERT

Wednesday, April 14; 6 - 7 p.m.(MST)

TOPIC: Water-efficient landscapes, water resources and the importance of conservation in the Chihuahuan Desert.

- Unique climate characteristics of the Chihuahuan Desert and related landscape challenges
- Importance of native plants for sustainability
- Regional water sources and historical use in El Paso

DEVELOPING THE PLAN FOR YOUR LANDSCAPE

Wednesday, April 21; 6 - 7 p.m.(MST)

via Zoom

TOPIC: A great landscape starts with good design. Having a plan will allow you to achieve a water efficient and aesthetic pleasing garden. Learn how to evaluate your house to develop a plan.

- Finding inspiration!
- What do you want to do in your space? How do you use your space now?
- Take stock! Existing conditions, plants, time, money, etc.
- Make a plan using existing satellite images

To register for these FREE workshops and to receive Zoom links. Call 915.771.2354 or go to <https://bit.ly/3qiFfQ7> and register online.

TEXAS A&M
AGRILIFE
EXTENSION

